TURKS IGNORE FINAL DECREE OF ITALIANS

Land Troops, Guns and Ammunition at Tripoli.

WARSHIPS DO NOT INTERFERE

War Spirit Prevails Throughout Italian Provinces and People Cheer Reservists as They Flock to Barracks — Other European Countries Fear General Conflict May Result. Turkey's Reply to Ultimatum Unsatisfactory.

Turin, Sept. 28.—Passing within view and within gunshot of the Italian warships, the Turkish transport Derna entered the harbor at Tripoli and landed about 100 soldiers, several cases of rifles and ammunition and a large quantity of barley. The Derna was not even followed by any of the warships.

Two views of the failure to interfere with the Derna are taken by the Italian press. The first is, that to have done so would have been an act of piracy, as the vessel sailed before the Italian note was presented to Turkey. The second is, that as she landed arms and ammunition at Tripoli in view of the note sent a few days ago intimating that she must not do so, it gives Italy a clear ground to occupy the port.

Stolen Check Discovered

Steubenville, O., Sept. 28.—Finding an American Express money order for $48.50 payable to George Blair of Chicago on Earl Reese, arrested here for burglary, brought Agent Muldoon of the American company to Steubenville from Cleveland, and he claims this is one of 22 blank orders stolen from the Youngstown office of the company last May, 10 of which have since been passed in different cities, including one at the Hollenden hotel in Cleveland. The orders have been for amounts from $30 to $50.

Naval Boats in Collision. Paris, Sept. 28.—The torpedo boat Trident struck the submarine boat Mousqueton at Salina d'Hyere. The Trident had her bow crushed in.

MAYOR SHANK
Indianapolis Executive Has Scheme to Help the Poor.

Mayor Shank Takes A Hand

Indianapolis Consumers Given Chance at Cheap Potatoes.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 28.—The campaign being waged in Indianapolis for lower retail prices for food products scored its first victory. Through the efforts of Mayor Shank, who is leading the movement, potatoes will be on sale at the city market Saturday at the producers' price plus the actual cost of transportation and handling.

Word was received from the mayor's personal representative, sent to Michigan to investigate the potato situation, that he had been able to buy a large supply of potatoes for 69 cents a bushel placed in the car. They are expected to arrive Saturday and will be taken to the city market and sold by the city in an effort to force the commission men to lower their prices.

COMMITTEE MUST DO REDISTRICT WORK

Governor May Then Call Extra Legislative Session.

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—State Insurance Superintendent Edward H. Moore, representing the state administration, and State Oil Inspector William L. Finley, representing the Democratic state organization, Senator Thomas A. Dean and Representative William Duane Fulton, chairmen respectively of the Ohio senate and house committees on federal relations, will draft a congressional gerrymander bill which is to be presented to Governor Harmon with a request that he call an extra session of the legislature only in case the bill "meets with universal approval" of the Democratic members of the legislature.

This gerrymander committee of four was selected at a conference at the Neil House between Chairmen Dean and Fulton and Congressmen Alfred G. Allen of Cincinnati and J. Henry Goeke of Wapakoneta of the committee of five named two weeks ago by 19 of the 16 Democratic congressmen.

Governor Harmon, is understood to have promised co-operation, if promises are made that the legislators will confine their work to consideration of the gerrymander and agree in advance upon its provisions.

Fear General Conflict.

Berlin, Sept. 28.—That hostilities between Turkey and Italy would open the entire eastern situation, and possibly result in the long deferred clash of the powers, is admitted here. Consequently every nation, England included, is working hard to devise a peaceful settlement. The intimation has been conveyed to Italy by both Germany and Austria that anything more serious than a demonstration before Tripoli and Smyrna will be looked on with disfavor.

Harry Mapes and Herbert Ball of Sisson, Cal., are believed to have perished in the snow while ascending Mt. Shasta.

AUTO 'BUS PLUNGES INTO RIVER SEINE

Thirteen of Twenty-Four Passengers Drowned.

Paris, Sept. 28.—An auto bus on the line from the Batignolles quarter to the Jardin des Plantes fell into the Seine while crossing the Notre Dame bridge. The bus had got out of control, skidded, went through a railing and was completely submerged.

Customs officers, boatmen and their wives in rowboats immediately rowed out, and a river steamer also went to the rescue. The rescuers knocked in the roof of the bus and endeavored to drag the occupants out with boathooks.

The bus, which was one of the new type, single story, is said to have contained 24 passengers. One of the passengers, a priest, was able to free himself under the water and to save the lives of five other passengers. Fifteen have been taken out, 13 of whom were dead. Among them were four women and three children.

Zuber Feels The Ax Fall

Columbus, O., Sept. 28.—Pursuing the policy mapped out by the new board of administration, Warden Jones of the Ohio penitentiary reported to the board that he had abolished seven positions paying net annual salaries of $7,560, and increased salaries of men taking over the duties $2,820, making a net annual saving to the state of $4,740.

Assistant Deputy Warden B. F. Zuber of Paulding county is the only new man to go. The others have been notified of their discharge during the past two weeks. The changes are to take effect Oct. 16.

CLOSING TALK SHOWS TAFT'S APPRECIATION

E. H. MOORE
Insurance Commissioner Will Help Redistrict the State.

Thanks Kansas For Attention to His Remarks.

FINDS PEOPLE ARE PROSPEROUS

President Delivers Three Addresses On Last Day in Sunflower State and Has Been Greeted by Largest Audiences Since Leaving Beverly For Swing Around the Circle—Senator Curtis Announces That He is Convert to Arbitration Treaties.

Leavenworth, Kan., Sept. 28.—His visit to Kansas ended by President Taft with three speeches to the largest audiences that he has had in the Sunflower state.

There was a G. A. R. reunion meeting in Topeka, the state capital, and a county picnic at Atchison, so that Mr. Taft was kept away from politics except for his final address to a crowd in the public square of this city. Here he discussed the tariff.

Mr. Taft just before leaving issued a statement thanking the people of this state for their kindly reception. Here is the president's message to the Kansans:

"I am sincerely grateful to the people of Kansas not only for the warm welcome which they extended to me as president of the United States, but for the kindly attention which they paid to what I said. I found the intelligent men and women of Kansas looking prosperous, happy and contented, and congratulate them on the evidences thereof that abound on every hand."

Reception Grew in Numbers.

Mr. Taft has now traveled through four congressional districts of the eight of this state. Two of these were insurgent districts, admittedly so even in Kansas, and two of them were ranked as "stand-pat," having returned their old congressmen after hard fighting in the primaries during the heyday of insurgency in this section of the country. It is admitted by his enemies that the president has covered a representative portion of the state in his visit. His audiences have been larger than the average in the friendly states through which he passed in coming here. The president's first day here was a surprise to every one. The reception did not abate in numbers through the whole four days' trip in the state. Some 40,000 people packed into the

Two Killed In Train Wreck

Excursion and Brick Trains Collide Near Canton.

Canton, O., Sept. 28.—Two men were killed, three seriously injured and a dozen persons received minor injuries in the wreck of a passenger train on the Sherrodsville branch of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad. The train was loaded with excursionists homeward bound after a day spent at the Canton aviation meet. A cut of cars loaded with brick broke loose from a freight train and started down the track. They went through a switch and onto the main track just as the passenger train rounded a curve and crashed into the train. The engine was thrown from the track and the baggage car, immediately behind, toppled over. The dead are two unidentified young men, thought to be from Sherrodsville.

Elderly Englishman the Second Man to Swim English Channel

Photos copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

WILLIAM BURGESS, the second man to swim the English channel, is past fifty years of age, and he succeeded in accomplishing the feat on his sixteenth attempt, his first effort being made in 1904. Burgess is a native of Yorkshire, England, though he has lived in Paris for more than twenty years earning a living as a blacksmith. In his long body was well greased before he entered the water, and during the swim he partook of food at frequent intervals. He was almost exhausted by the swim in the water, which was at 66 degrees F., the highest it has been in a decade. He was accompanied by a motorboat, and it is estimated that he covered sixty miles owing to the baffling tides, though the actual distance from shore to shore was only a trifle more than a third of that. Burgess says that his sufferings were terrible and that he was out of his head much of the time, being afflicted with horrible hallucinations. He now says that he believes he can swim across the channel twice and that he will make the attempt if a prize of $50,000 is offered.

Picks The Jail Locks

Painesville, O., Sept. 28.—In the presence of Lake county officials the locks in the new county jail here were picked by John Burns, arrested as an express robber months ago. The only tools used were a piece of wire and an old spoon. Burns said if he was given his freedom he would pick every lock in the jail within 10 minutes, and he did.

New Orleans, Sept. 28.—That Miss Annie Crawford, charged with killing her sister Elise, a stenographer, last week, by administering poison, has made a partial confession to the district attorney, is the story told by the police.

In her confession Annie admitted giving poison to Elise, but said she did it by mistake. Her statement did not involve the cases of the other members of the family. The girl says she gave morphine, thinking it was calomel tablets, and then that she did not call the doctor in and tell him of the mistake because she was afraid of her aunt.

Three other members of the Crawford family have died under mysterious circumstances within the past 15 months, and Annie Crawford is

GOTHAM APPROVES GABY MANUEL A JUDGE NEW BEAUTY IS ENTHRONED

Ely Takes Tumble

Canton, O., Sept. 28.—Eugene Ely, aviator of the Curtiss corps, plunged 100 feet to the ground at the aviation field here and sustained a bad cut over his right eye, several bumps on the back of his head and smashed the front end of his machine. One of his planes hit Atwood's machine as the latter was about to arise. The accident happened just as Ely attempted a turn at the end of the field, half a minute after he had arisen for the first time at the meet.

Former Governor F. D. Proctor of Vermont died at his home in Proctor after a protracted illness.

New Yorkers Think Manuel Good Judge of Beauty.

New York, Sept. 28.—Gaby Deslys, for love of whom ex-King Manuel of Portugal is said to have spent so much of his time and money that he lost his throne, made her first appearance at the winter garden and gave New York's first-nighters an opportunity to judge royal tastes in actresses.

There was unanimous approval of Manuel's ability to pick a winner. Gaby made a big hit. She needs no royal backing to get into the music hall headline class. She is a vivacious young lady, of more than average height, with a pretty face, a good figure, and at present she is a blonde. She knows how to wear clothes and she can sing. She can not dance, and the only part of her performance that wasn't successful was her appearance in a ballet costume.

INVESTIGATION

SHOWS SEWER IS CLOGGED

Meeting Called for Friday at the Church

WATER STANDING THREE INCHES DEEP

In Presbyterian Church Basement.

It seems that considerable discussion has arisen over the publication in Tuesday evening's Herald to the effect that the sewer running down the alley between Temple and Market streets from Main street to the creek—the sewer commonly known as the Sharp sewer—was clogged and the basement of the Presbyterian church flooded with water as were also a number of other cellars in that locality.

In the publication of Tuesday the Herald was publishing only such information as it could obtain from sources believed to be authoritative. The statement of facts contained in that publication challenged by some and sustained by others.

On Thursday a supplementary investigation of conditions was made, especially after one of the church officials called at the Herald office and asked that the notice of a meeting at the Presbyterian church tomorrow night be published. That notice appears in another column of this issue and speaks for itself.

Resolved to ascertain the true condition of affairs, the Herald sent a reporter to visit the church this morning, and give the situation as found. This was done, and instead of the water having entirely disappeared, there is some three inches of water standing about the furnace, a most undesirable condition.

There seems to be but little question among the people interested that this water is due to clogging of the Sharp sewer, which drains the church and the Presbyterian parsonage and which it is stated, exhaustive tests have proven is clogged up, presumably at a point west of Hinde street.

The water standing in some holes where ground was broken for the new Market street sewer, according to the opinion of reports, could hardly soak through sixty or seventy feet of hard earth and escape into the basement of the church, when an excellent drainage is offered by the sewer itself within a few feet of the holes.

Wednesday afternoon a thorough test was made to ascertain whether or not the sewer was in perfect working order. Among other tests a pint of iodine was dumped into the sewer at the church, and although a careful watch was maintained for a considerable length of time, no iodine water came from the sewer, proving conclusively that not only is the sewer stopped up, but that it is hopelessly clogged.

In addition to this a meeting has been called for tomorrow night, when it is hoped that the owners of

POSTOFFICE INSPECTOR HERE

BAD SIDEWALKS

ON REQUEST FOR CARRIERS

Mr. C. B. Spear, postoffice inspector of this district, is in the city making a thorough investigation with a view to granting the request of Postmaster J. H. Culhan for additional city carriers and an extension of the free delivery service in the city, but owing to existing conditions it is a question whether additional carrier, or carriers will be granted.

During an interview Mr. Spear stated that about the only information he had to offer was the fact that many persons who were expecting free mail delivery could not secure it because there are no continuous sidewalks to their residences, and the postoffice department is strict regarding the kind of sidewalks necessary before mail delivery will be granted.

For many months Postmaster Culhan has been endeavoring to secure two additional carriers, and extend the service to the outlying districts, but before this could be done it was necessary that an inspector visit the city and make a careful investigation of the true conditions as they exist, and then if the city was entitled to additional carriers, allow them accordingly.

The requirements of the postoffice department are, first of all, good sidewalks, either cement, stone, or brick. These sidewalks must be continuous, and be kept in good condition. Next all houses in districts desiring mail must be numbered. Then all streets must be named and posted, and the last but not least requirement is suitable mail receptacles. Unless citizens have these, there is no hope for securing mail delivery.

From information which is reliable, it is learned that this city has the poorest set of sidewalks of any city its size in Ohio, and that because of this reason alone many districts which are very desirous of securing mail delivery, cannot be supplied.

The outlying sidewalks are the "worst ever," and the amount of brick, stone or cement paving is remarkably small. While this is a deplorable condition of the city, it is nevertheless true, and unless improvements are made in some sections, some of those receiving mail delivery at present are liable to lose it.

In addition to bad sidewalks, and no sidewalks at all, the house numbering of the city is rated "exceedingly bad," and quite a number of persons who have no mail receptacles may lose the delivery unless mail boxes are purchased at once.

Postmaster Culhan is still hopeful that at least one new carrier will be granted, and is endeavoring to have the extension of the service carried to all houses which the department will allow to receive mail under existing conditions.

REFUSED THE STUDENTS' DEMAND

KYLE WAS GAME

WAS GIVEN CUSTOMARY DUCKING

The following article from Delaware concerning Kenneth Kyle, son of Mr. R. C. Kyle, of this city, is of interest to the public in general:

Despite a faculty and student senate ruling that no more underclassmen of Ohio Wesleyan should be given a bath in the sulphur spring this time-honored custom was quickly reinvoked this morning, when three freshmen refused to turn down the trouser cuffs forbidden for them by the new rules. They were L. C. Gates of Chagrin Falls, Kenneth Kyle of Washington C. H. and Walter Laundon of Elyria.

Excitement preceding the annual sophomore-freshmen flag rush, scheduled for Saturday, runs high, and it is doubtful if all the underclassmen can be kept dry, despite the severe scoring given by President Welch in chapel for the infraction this morning. Vigorously worded posters were scattered over the city by the sophomores last night.

The annual flag rush this year is to be a triangular affair. A track meet in the morning will be followed by a tug-of-war across the Olen-tangy after dinner, and the pole push for an hour at the close of the afternoon.

WOULD ADVANCE HEARING

IN SUPREME COURT

OF WAYNE SCHOOL CASE

Attorneys John Logan and D. L. Thompson were in Columbus Thursday arguing a motion before the Supreme court to advance for final hearing in that court the case of Stephen Garringer and others against the trustees of Wayne township and others.

The case is generally known as the Wayne Township school case.

Mr. Garringer and other taxpayers brought the action which was one for an injunction to declare valid the special election held some time ago for a bond issue of $30,000 to erect new school buildings in Wayne township and to enjoin the trustees from proceeding with the bond issue and the erection of the new school buildings.

In the Common Pleas and Circuit courts the election was upheld and the injunction refused. The plaintiffs are now asking the Supreme court to reverse the lower courts and remand the case for a new hearing.

The defendants—the township trustees—have filed a written motion asking that the case be advanced and heard immediately, the reason assigned being that the public interest demands an early end of the litigation.

Little Better

Miss Ethel Irvine, seriously burned Monday morning while burning paper in the yard at her home in Bloomingburg, is somewhat better, having rested fairly well during the after part of last night.

The burns are even worse than at first believed, and their extent is not fully known yet. If she recovers from the injuries it will be necessary for a large amount of skin grafting, which will be slow and tedious work.

Her chances of recovery are increasing with each day.

BLOODTHIRSTY BARBARIANS

GUILTY OF QUEER CONDUCT

A most peculiar and cold-blooded deed was performed near Williamsport, early Monday morning, by men supposed to be horse traders, on their way to this city for the monthly stock sales, when the rascals killed a horse by striking it in the head with an axe. They skinned, disemboweled and quartered the animal, hauled most of the carcass for more than a mile and abandoned it in a corn field, carrying the hide and right fore leg away with them.

The dirty work was done by four men, all strangers in the locality, and at a point between the residences of J. H. Dunlap and Park Laughlin. The animal was first struck in the head with the blade of an axe, after which it was skinned and the entrails left by the roadside.

After chopping the carcass up into quarters, the men loaded it in a spring wagon and drove about one mile west, where they dumped the carcass in a cornfield west of Williamsport. They passed through Williamsport about three o'clock, a spring wagon and a buggy, two men in each rig, and were conversing in whispers.

The horse killed was a roadster, black in color, white face and white on right hind leg. It is believed by some that the men had stolen the horse and thought they might be arrested for the theft, and sought to cover up their crime by killing and skinning the animal. Whether an attempt was made to dispose of the skin in this city, has not been learned.

Is Your Stomach Out of Order?

After eating are you troubled with belching, heartburn, or pains or distress in your stomach? Too much depends upon your stomach to allow such a condition to continue, and the quicker you change the condition the better for your general health.

A weak stomach means a debilitated body and weakened mental power. Your natural digestive secretions must be restored and the organs of digestion stimulated into natural, healthy action. The pleasantest, surest and quickest way to do this is to take

Ohio Quail

State Fish and Game Commissioner John C. Speaks proposes to restock Ohio with quail. In the northern and northwestern sections, where these birds have been practically extinct for some years, he will plant coveys from the districts where they are plentiful.

Under his direction they will be trapped and shipped to farmers, who have given him assurance that they will be fed and sheltered throughout the winter months.

Their extinction in the northern part of the state is not due to slaughter, but to extensive farming, which has destroyed their places of habitation.

Strickland W. Gillilan
Prince of Humorists

The third entertainment of the Washington Lecture Course will be Strickland W. Gillilan, on November 29, 1911. Mr. Gillilan's lectures are no dry, prosy and uninteresting things, but lectures that fairly sparkle with clean wit, humor, oratory and logic.

Mr. Strickland W. Gillilan is too well known to American readers to require extensive comment here. Not only is he a magazine, newspaper and platform humorist, but he is a poet and philosopher. The Ladies' Home Journal of last January contained five original poems of Gillilan's with an introductory paragraph by the editor who commented upon the versatility of a writer, who being author of five tender and serious poems there given, had also written the famous "Off Agin, On Agin, Gone Agin—Finnigin." His literary work has also appeared in the Woman's Home Companion, Success, Life, Saturday Evening Post and many other publications.

Mr. Gillilan is one of the positive and distinct personalities presented to the world through the public prints. He is not a copyist, either in manner or matter, his originality being his distinctive characteristic besides his merit.

One of Mr. Gillilan's humorous lectures is entitled: "Sunshine and Awkwardness." Another is "A Sample Case of Humor."

Stock Sales
Very Light

Stock sales Tuesday were very light for September, although quite a number of animals changed hands. The quiet is supposed to have been due to the large number of farmers who were so busy in their corn and sowing wheat that they could not spare the time to come, probably reasoning that inasmuch as the continued rains have made an abundance of pasture, they would hold their horses until the October sales, and then sell what they do not care to winter.

Foreign buyers were ready with good prices for all good grade horses offered.

Mrs. Isaac Miller, who underwent a major operation at the Hodson Hospital over two weeks ago, was able to return to her home this side of Bloomingburg today. Considering the serious nature of the operation, Mrs. Miller's progress towards recovery is most gratifying.

"Sunshine and Awkwardness" and "A Sample Case of Humor," by Strickland W. Gillilan, will make one forget his troubles. Gillilan is one of the world's leading humorists and the author of the side splitting "Off agin, on agin, gone agin, Finnigin." Ask for a season ticket while it is possible to secure one.

IN SESSION GRACE CHURCH

COUNTY W. C. T. U.

THE ATTENDANCE IS GOOD

The County Convention of the W. C. T. U. is convening at Grace church today, with a splendid attendance, and an enthusiasm that makes it one of the most successful meetings in the history of the society.

The nine delegations, including Washington C. H., West Lancaster, Jeffersonville, Milledgeville, Bloomingburg, Cooks, Sugar Grove, Good Hope and Staunton are represented by 53 voting delegates and over 100 interested members.

Mrs. Alice Taggart, of Jeffersonville, President, presides.

The morning's session was taken up with various reports and suggestions relative to conditions as found from the reports, and the election of officers. The reports were highly gratifying.

The last year's officers, Mrs. Alice Taggart, president; Mrs. Tasso Post, of Sugar Creek W. C. T. U., recording secretary; Miss Stitt, corresponding secretary; Miss Augusta Adams, treasurer, were re-elected for the coming year.

Towards noon Rev. Swearingen, who is connected with the Total Abstinence department of the Anti-Saloon League, and one of the leaders in the Lincoln Legion League movement, addressed the women briefly. Rev. Swearingen made the astonishing statement that already 40,000 Sunday schools are working up the Lincoln Legion League for Temperance Sunday, 40,000 letters are being sent out and the efforts of this campaign, together with the active part taken by the women, will go far towards making Ohio a dry state.

Rev. Moore, of Bloomingburg Presbyterian church, closed the morning session with the noon-tide prayer.

It had been heard abroad that a "basket dinner" would be served at noon. The basket dinner proved to be a royal feast served in the basement of the church. Long tables were arranged in the form of a cross and artistically decorated with clusters of scarlet sylvia and fern.

On the tables were great platters of golden brown fried chicken, bowls of delicious salad, home made rolls and cake would have taken a prize at a county fair, jellies and pickles of all kinds, pyramids of peaches and grapes—everything that burdened hampers would hold, and served with hot coffee and tea.

The W. C. T. U. women seem to be as successful in the culinary art as in their ardent temperance efforts.

A number of the women, largely from the local society, served the dinner perfectly.

This afternoon's session is being devoted to the department work, the twenty superintendents in charge giving their reports.

B. & O. Brakeman
Killed by Train

Louis Coughlin, 21, brakeman on the B. & O. S. W. and whose home is in Chillicothe, was instantly killed Wednesday by being struck by a passenger train while standing on the tracks at Madeira.

The freight train on which he was braking had pulled into a siding, and Coughlin was standing on the main track and did not hear the train approaching. The body was shipped to Chillicothe where he leaves a number of relatives, including a widowed mother. His body was horribly mangled.

Cannon on Modern Mormonism and Gov. Folk, of Missouri, are two of the eight strong numbers in the Washington Lecture Course. To miss hearing is to miss a rare opportunity.

TO GET RICH QUICK.

Phillipe Vignoli, former associate of Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy, who was apprehended in Los Angeles several months ago on the charge of obtaining $2,000 by false pretences from Antonio Scarpelli, a contractor, has made J. Rufus Wallingford's most ambitious promotion schemes appear as the work of a novice, according to testimony adduced at a trial now in progress at Spokane.

Scarpelli alleges that Vignoli represented he had an invention in mind whereby he would be enabled to see around the world, adding that when the apparatus was perfected Scarpelli would have no difficulty whatever in meeting face to face, as it were, his relatives in Italy at any time of the day or night.

Vignoli, the principal witness testified, told him that mountains, skyscrapers, ramparts of steel, waves of the sea and all the obscuring phenomena of the elements must give way to the powerful lenses and ingenious contrivances as easily as the plate glass of a show window affords light to the structure. Scarpelli advanced more than $2,000 to the inventor on this representation.

The specific charge is that Vignoli secured $390 from Bertha Scarpelli, niece of the complaining witness, by telling her that Scarpelli told him he might have the money. The girl gave it to him on the understanding that the money was to be used in perfecting the invention. Instead, however, Vignoli hid himself to the south, where he lived as a gentleman of leisure.

While in Los Angeles Vignoli dispatched letters and telegrams to the Scarpelli family, asking for $500 with which to complete the invention. His arrest followed with the foregoing result.

The fool scheme to get the money of the credulous for nothing, which will not work has not yet been devised by the mind of the unscrupulous schemer.

The strangest part in all these affairs is the fact that the more transparent the fraud is the more readily suckers snap at it.

It seems from reports in the daily press too, strange to say, that the victims are not infrequently found among the men of supposed experience, the more prosperous men of affairs.

Perhaps a greater percentage of those who have fallen victims to the wiles of the criminal schemers will be found in the ranks of the "well to do" than in the ranks of the poorer classes.

Expert thief catchers explain this on the theory that the avarice and dishonesty of the victim is nearly always the cause of disaster.

Men and women who are prosperous seem seized with an insane desire to possess more and more, no matter how devious the path which leads to coveted riches may be and that it is this disease which results in their financial undoing.

Usually in the cases of big swindles the insertion of the probe will disclose more than simple mindedness on the part of the victim, and dishonesty of the bunco man at the bottom of the trouble.

As covetousness in large proportions is blended into the human being the "get rich quick" man with his simple plan which any school boy should see through, will continue to rake in the coin.

Honest
Business
Methods
Pay in Long Run

By HARVEY PEAKE

A prominent merchant once dismissed a salesman whom he overheard saying to a shopper: "We usually sell that for $1.25, but seeing it's you, I'll let you have it for $1."

The article regularly sold at $1. Nothing could injure a business more than to make customers feel that personal influence governs prices. In the first place, an intelligent buyer cannot help discovering the salesman's duplicity, and aside from the fact that it is against all good business principles, there is another thing to be considered.

Some people, foolishly enough, allow themselves to be persuaded that they are of special importance and can buy goods at that particular store at lower prices than anyone else. They become accustomed to looking for reductions and feel angered if called upon to pay the regular price for anything.

But, worst of all, they spread the impression among their friends that they have a so-called "pull" at So-and-So's, and offer to use their influence to get the reduction in price for their friends also.

Of course there are times when it is necessary for ever well-regulated business concern to cut prices upon merchandise—for instance, when certain lines refuse to leave the shelves or assortments are depleted. But in this case the cut is general and applies as much to Mrs. Jones as to Mrs. Smith.

Some salesmen who desire to be clever and who have a high opinion of their ability along this line are inclined to work this sort of confidence game on their customers: They will take the favored ones (?) aside and inform them that, as a special favor, they are going to let them have for $1 an article for which every one else is paying $1.25, while in reality $1 is the regular profit-bearing price.

This ruse may work for a while, but it is, nevertheless, bad business. It is well enough to impress a customer with the fact that an article is worth more than he is asked to pay for it if this is actually the case, but they must not be led to believe they can buy it for less money than any one else can.

Honest business methods pay in the long run.

POETRY

MOTTOES.

He is a most successful man, his motto has been this: "I can."
He never was contented with "I'll try!"
With the "Maybe I can do it," he maintains there's nothing to it.
And he hasn't any use for "Bye and bye."

In the daily round of strife, "Do it now!" has ruled his life,
"Tempus fugit," is his favorite Latin phrase;
"What's worth doing," he will tell, "is of course, worth doing well."
And "Honesty's the policy that pays."

In a voice described as "sotto" he tells every one his motto,
"In the lexicon there's no such word as fail,"
He attributes his success to the fact that more or less
He has lived up to his mottoes trite and stale.

I admit his good intentions, but there's one he never mentions,
It's a motto that has kept his nature sunny,
All the rest are theoretical, high sounding, nice and ethical,
But his business rule is really: "Get the money!"

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Concerning Coffee.

The following conclusions are reached by a physician who made an exhaustive study of the beverage: "Coffee has antiseptic properties. A cup of coffee left in a room remains free from bacteria for over a week. The ordinary infusion is strong enough to kill the microbes of cholera and anthrax in three hours, of typhoid fever in one day and the spores of anthrax in nine days. Coffee may be used by a moderate consumer to his advantage as a beverage when it produces none of the symptoms indicating a poisoning of the system. It should not be allowed to patients who are known to be nervous, especially women. Under no circumstances should it be allowed to children, on account of their susceptible nervous systems. The therapeutic action of coffee must not be lost sight of, and when the proper indications arise its judicious use may be of great benefit. Personally the writer can testify to its efficacy in cases of shock and vomiting after operations, or hemorrhage, in dram doses without milk or sugar every fifteen minutes. For patients with hardened arteries we should prohibit the use of coffee, because experiments show that its use raises the blood pressure."

Corn at its Best

"Ole Virginny" corn pone? Ripe, jui. corn on the cob? Both mighty good—but they're not in it with Kellogg's. Just imagine ripe, sugar-sweet corn daintily flaked to light, golden films of toasted corn. That's corn at its best—that's Kellogg's. Have it for tomorrow's breakfast, sure.

said to have been the beneficiary named in the insurance policies on the life of each.

Coroner Grew Suspicious. Elise Crawford died suddenly last Sunday and under circumstances so suspicious that the coroner had the contents of her stomach analyzed. The finding of enough morphine to kill at least two persons was followed by the arrest of the sister. The authorities indicated the bodies of the other three members of the family would be exhumed for a similar examination.

District Attorney Adams declined to state whether he contemplated charging Annie Crawford with the murder of all four members of the family, but he dictated the following statement:

"It was established that Annie Crawford is a drug victim and probably is addicted to morphine. It is also established that Annie Crawford had access during the last three weeks to morphine and was in a position to obtain it in practically any quantity during that period. During the indisposition of Elise Crawford she bitterly complained that her food and drink was doped. I have charged Annie Crawford with the murder of her sister Elise."

BIBLE QUESTION
BOX

YOUR BIBLE QUESTIONS WILL BE ANSWERED IN THESE COLUMNS, OR BY MAIL IF SENT TO THE EDITOR OF THIS JOURNAL

Q.—What is conscience?

Answer.—Man when created was endowed with the moral faculties; that is, the faculties with which to determine between the right and the wrong. These faculties were perfect in the first man formed by the Creator. The Divine Law was written in the very nature of the perfect human being—Adam. When man disobeyed the Almighty Being who had formed him, he knew that he had violated the principles of righteousness and justice and therefore his conscience reproved him—his moral faculties were offended—and with the woman he hid himself from the presence of the Lord.

The sense of discerning good and evil, differentiating between right and wrong, has been sadly marred and dulled by the long centuries of the experiences of the race with sin, evil and degradation, until the conscience alone is no longer a safe guide to direct in life's affairs. The conscience, even of the best, is now and then erroneous and doubtful. Therefore, as individual timepieces need to be regulated by some standard of time, so our consciences require constant regulation by some standard of morality and righteousness—the Word of God, the Bible.

GREAT POPULARITY CONTEST CLOSSES

SATURDAY NIGHT

PROMPTLY AT THE HOUR OF EIGHT

Friends Should Not Forget to Help

THEIR FAVORITE CANDIDATES

Work Being Done During Last Few Days Will Probably be Decisive.

As the day for the closing of the contest draws near, all candidates are in doubt. This can not be helped, but the manner of awarding the prizes will assure nearly every hard working candidate who has been busy from the start, one of the beautiful premiums.

Any one of the prizes will be a handsome return for the work the majority of the candidates have done. The winners of the grand prize will receive much in excess of the amount they could have earned in three times the time the contest has been running.

Don't let your efforts cease yet. There are only a few more days and they might mean more than you now realize. Work until the last day and then should you fail you will have the satisfaction of knowing that it was through no fault of yours.

KEEP YOUR PROMISE.

Now is the time for every one to help his favorite candidate to secure a prize. If you have "promised" some candidate your subscription now is the time to fulfill that promise. Just think of the disappointment the young lady you have "promised" a subscription to would feel if she should fail to win a prize just by one subscription, which you failed to give her. The time to think about this is now.

ABOUT THE FINISH.

The contest will close Saturday, Sept. 30, at 8 p. m. in Memorial Hall. At 7 p. m. the ballot box will be taken from the Register-Herald office to Memorial Hall, where subscriptions will be received and votes issued until the closing hour. It must be distinctly understood however, by candidates, and their friends that the votes for subscriptions must be issued and PLACED IN BALLOT BOX BEFORE 8 P. M., otherwise they will not be counted. This rule will be strictly enforced. The final counting will be done by a committee of disinterested public men and will be started immediately after the contest closes. All candidates are requested to be present or have a representation on hand. This is absolutely necessary so that each candidate can see that the contest will be closed in a fair and impartial manner.

Many Accidents Due to High Heels

One day this week while a woman was in the act of alighting from a C. H. & D. train, one of her high heels caught on the lower step of the coach and she would have fallen heavily if the heel had not come off. This often happens at the local depot and when the heel fails to give way, a bad fall results.

That high heels and hobble skirts are responsible for a large proportion of the injuries sustained by women while getting on and off trains and mounting and descending stairways in stations, is the conclusion reached by the Pennsylvania railroad after an investigation covering three months, in which 73 such cases were recorded.

The injuries ranged from slight contusions to painful sprains and cuts. Typical of the causes set forth in the report are: "Heel caught on step of coach and tore off. High heel caught while descending stairs; wore hobble skirt."

Even in the new Pennsylvania station at New York, where all descents are gradual and where the stairways are designed so as to minimize the possibility of such accidents, women fall victims to the high heel.

It is pointed out that the railroads can do nothing to prevent these casualties because "women of all times have followed styles that are dangerous to life and limb."

The Abalone House

By RUTH ALLEN BENEDICT.

"Si, Jose, I will marry thee when, when—" Carmencita's black eyes softened musingly, and fell upon the string of polished abalone about her neck—"when thou canst build me a house of 'dobe inlaid with the abalone shell."

"Surely, Carmencita, but how?" queried her lover.

"The big 'dobe blocks, with one shell stuck in each. It will not take long, and," coldly, "if thou are not enough of a diver, Manuel, thy brother, is certainly."

The dark blood flushed Jose's face, but because of his constraining love, he answered quietly enough:

"It is well, and I begin our home to-morrow."

Day after day, through the opalescent waters of Catalina Bay, the lithe body of Jose shot downward. With dextrous knife he wrenched the huge sea-ears from their rocky home, and rose with his prize to the surface. Oh, what relief to draw the air once more through the straining lungs, the wild exultation at the sight of the sun, the half-sigh of gratitude for another perilous trip accomplished! Every swift dart through the blue-green water meant a possible encounter with a shark, or, more to be dreaded, a misstep into the open jaws of a huge abalone. The great clam never relaxes his hold, and many a luckless diver has been drowned, or choosing heroic measure, risen to the surface minus a heel.

The little home progressed steadily; not so Jose's wooing. The changing lights of the abalone she loved seemed to dominate Carmencita's character. One day she smiled on Jose, the next drove him to despair by sailing with the rich fisherman Fernando. But at last the little two-roomed house was all but done; the swastika was graven on the lintels; all was ready save the one great shell needed to fill the niche above the door. Shells of course there were, but none large or shimmering enough to suit the capricious Carmencita. Whereupon, Jose stumbled along the reef at low tide, looking closely at every rock to discover the prize shell. It was a weary hunter that toiled through the oozy sand, for he had spent the day in fruitless diving, until now, night and the tide were fast coming on.

The thought quickened his steps. He slipped and fell. The knife in his hand stabbed a crevice in the rock and snapped off. At the same moment Jose felt his foot caught in a vise-like grasp, which slowly tightened with a sickening pain. In vain he struggled to tear his foot away; even the fragments of his knife were beyond his reach, and the one movable stone was too small for use. He sent a shrill cry echoing over the lonely beach. Spent by this useless effort, he fiercely pressed his hands over his burning eyeballs, as if by shutting out the world he might get inspiration for his release. The lapping of the waves at his feet roused him from his frantic planning. He started to his feet, but the pain in his ankle dragged him down again. This, then, was to be his death, caught like a silly fish, just when life was at its fullest, when Carmencita—ah, that was hardest of all to bear!

Yet as he sat there stoically, still shouting at intervals, not a hard thought of her troubled his loyal heart, never a reproach for the vanity which had cost a life, only a regret that he could not find the last shell for her. When the water crept up above his waist he seized the little jagged piece of rock and sawed madly at his foot. Seeing that it was impossible to hack it off before the tide swept over him, he desisted and waited. Slowly and precisely the waves crept up, calmly they choked his last cry, and with a suave insouciance blotted out the tragedy.

When his body was brought home Carmencita's grief was beyond bounds. Five months she mourned passionately, and on the sixth married Manuel, his brother. To those who dared remonstrate with the imperious beauty, she gave but one answer—"She had loved Jose truly. Yes, but Jose was dead. Why not then marry Manuel, his nearest of kin?" But the simple fisher-folk shook their foreboding heads at the daring couple who took up their abode in the new adobe house, and saw clearly the visitation of God in the tidal wave which crept up the bay, demolishing the glittering little house, and drowning Manuel and Carmencita in their bridal bed. And to this day a mound of crumbling clay remains, with polished shells protruding here and there, to testify to the tragedy. No one will take a shell from the heap, and all the villagers will tell you that the spot is ill-omened.—Boston Post.

Smalley, who has the instrument on exhibition at his storeroom on West Court street, next door to the T. C. DeWeese Photo Gallery. A cordial invitation is extended to all to call and examine this beautiful prize.

The tone of this instrument, its volume of sound and artistic workmanship have earned for it the distinction of being one of the finest player pianos ever brought into Fayette county. Call at Smalley's store on West Court street and examine this prize.

2nd Grand Prize

$265 Link & Son Piano

This piano, also made by the Schaff Bros., of Chicago, Ill., and Huntington, Ind., has no equal on the market for the price. The people making this piano have been located in Chicago since the year 1868, since which time their financial rating has been unsurpassed by any of their competitors. They were the first firm to make upright pianos in Chicago after the great fire of 1872, and a steady improvement has marked the quality of their product ever since.

This piano was purchased from J. A. Smalley and is on exhibition at the storeroom next to the DeWeese photograph gallery. The many excellent features of this instrument, combining a double veneered mahogany case, light, perfectly balanced and sympathetic action and soft mellow tone make it one that anyone who is a lover of music would be proud to own.
